Situated in the quiet village of Kaba Kaba in southwest Bali, this private luxury compound is surrounded by lush rice fields and coconut groves. The iconic Tanah Lot Temple and Seseh Beach are within a 10-minute drive, Echo Beach and Pererenan just 10–15 minutes away, with Seminyak’s upscale dining and shopping reaching within 30 minutes.

The architects behind this project want to create a highly self sustainable community with four two-storey homes, a central shared wellness hub and garden. Two units offer 4 bedrooms, and two offer 5 bedrooms each. The interiors emphasize natural and locally sourced materials that reflect sustainable craftsmanship.

Expect warm timber, lime plaster, reclaimed stone finishes, canopy beds, and plenty of handcrafted detail. The design blends modern comfort with a down-to-earth, artisanal aesthetic.

Outdoors, the homes overlook expansive green rice paddies and volcanos. Residents share a 20-metre natural lap pool, cold-plunge, sauna, yoga lawn, kids’ nature playground, and communal produce garden. Private gardens for each house are lush, tree-canopied, and landscaped for biodiversity

An intentionally crafted sanctuary that balances privacy, wellness and connection to Bali’s rural rhythms—this compound offers a serene, refined lifestyle amid nature.
